

Reba Laird

BEMIDJI — Reba Laird, 75, Kerrville, Texas, and Bemidji, formerly of Grand Forks, died Friday, July 21, 1989, in North Country Nursing Home, Bemidji.

Memorial services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in First Presbyterian Church. Arrangements are with Cease Funeral Home, Bemidji.

Reba Latimer was born April 22, 1914, in Marysville, Ohio, the daughter of Bertha and Frank Latimer. She was educated in Bremen, Ohio, and graduated from Muskegem College, New Concord, Ohio. On Aug. 8, 1938, she married Wilson Laird in Latrobe, Pa. They lived in Cincinnati until moving to Grand Forks in 1940 where he was an assistant professor of geology at UND. He retired in 1969 and they moved to Reston, Va., where he worked in the oil and gas department of the U.S. Department of Interior. After retiring from there, they moved to Kerrville and spent the summers near Bemidji.

Survivors include her husband; sons, Douglas, Des Moines, David, Gaithersburg, Md., and Donald, Columbia, Mo.; a daughter, Dorothy (Mrs. Dennis) Kaatz, Wadena, Minn.; and five grandchildren.